

Ruth Lewis, Artistic Director and Conductor

Thank you for your interest in supporting community music. Your financial support allows us to cover the cost of music, venue rentals, printing, publicity, insurance, salaries, and other expenses necessary to present our concerts to the Gainesville community.

Voices Rising Community Chorus (VRCC) was established in 2013 as an intergenerational chorus open to adults and youth age 10 and up. Our concerts are designed to be musically diverse with sacred and secular selections which appeal to a wide audience. In addition, most of our concerts are designated as benefit concerts and a percentage of donations received at the performances are given to a chosen local charity organization.

We would like to offer you the opportunity to support VRCC in one or both of the following ways:

1. Purchasing an ad, to appear in all concert programs for the entire season (August to May);
2. Making a direct financial donation.

The form below may be used for either or both of the above. Further information is provided on the back of this page.

Visit our website at www.vrccgainesville.org or email programadsales@vrccgainesville.org if you have any questions.
